Reference

With full responsibility, we recommend Cleanbacter ITM sp. z o.o. based in Lublin as a reliable and professional partner in the field of supplying a condensed preparation for cleaning soil contaminated with petroleum derivatives. From the moment the cooperation was established, the orders were executed efficiently and reliably. The standards in force within the company fully met our expectations.

This project, strictly defined in time, included:

- The selection of the dose for the contaminants located in the ground, which was intended for the remediation process
- Biopreparation transport to the construction site
- Exchange of information on process control

Cleanbacter ITM sp. z o.o. ensures quick information flow, thanks to which we are informed on a current basis about the amount of biopreparation we have to take into account when planning next investments. The services of Cleanbacter ITM sp. z o.o. are provided by experienced and cultural specialists in both technology and commercial areas - these features are necessary in maintaining further business contacts.

Cleanbacter ITM sp. z o.o. fully implements the projects undertaken with absolute commitment. The undoubted advantage of the company is the full availability of employees always providing maximum support. The friendly and open attitude of employees to the client's requirements encourage continuation of our cooperation.

In connection with the above, we can recommend Cleanbacter ITM sp. Z o.o. as a professional and trustworthy partner in the field of biopreparation supply.

Respectfully yours,

Sylwia Janiszewska
